

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A protein microarray element comprising: a) a support; b) a gelatin layer containing functional groups capable of binding biological probes; and interposed between the support and the gelatin layer and c) an adhesive interlayer

5 layer capable of maintaining contact with the support and with the gelatin layer.